

Increase ROI with Teams

Teams helps companies improve access to information and free up workers to focus on higher-value activities, thus reducing operating costs, accelerating time-to-market, and fostering greater innovation.

Save time by reducing number of meetings

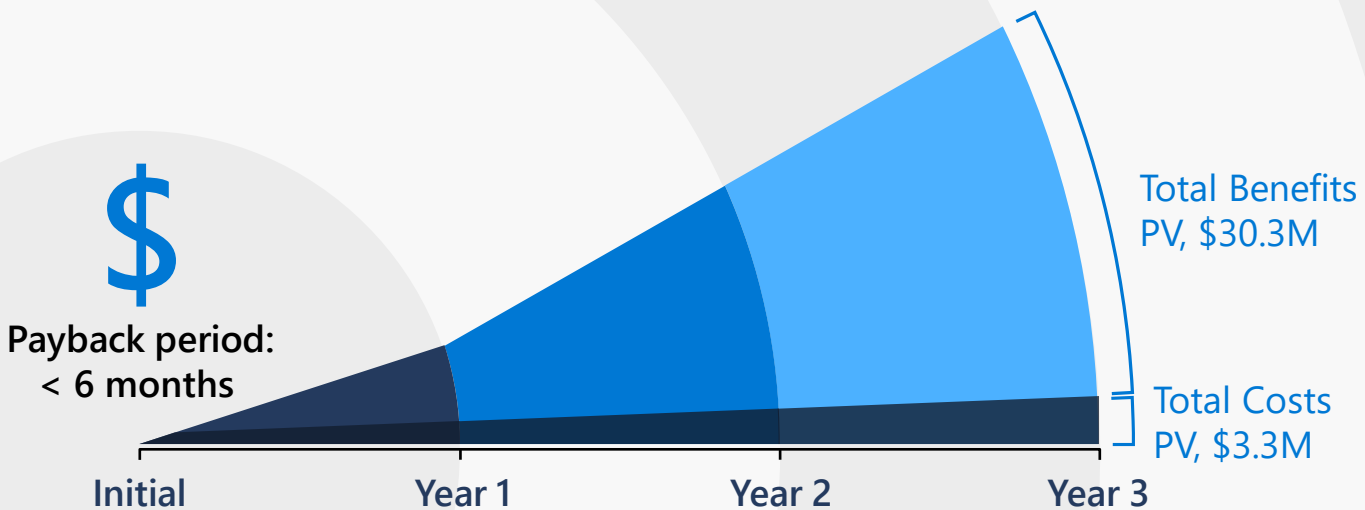

Handle all communication with one tool

Empower workers and improve satisfaction

Driving financial success

A financial analysis by Forrester found that organizations experienced present value benefits of $30.3 million over three years versus costs of $3.2 million, resulting in a net present value of $27.1 million and an 832% return on investment.